DO-IT-YOURSELF: The ideal way for you to obtain strong, healthy orchid plants to "grow on" is to order plants on the DO-IT-YOURSELF plan. These are shipped POSTAGE-FREE, with all the necessary supplies for orchid growing. The plant is removed from the pot, shaped for repotting (with old pseudobulbs removed), and sent complete with stake, ties, label, and sufficient WONDERBARK for planting. You have to furnish only the pot. We also include enough WONDER-LIZER, the marvelous instant orchid plant food, alone worth 29c. All of this is yours for only 39c in addition to the price of the plant as listed in the catalog. Complete instructions for potting into your own container are included, as well as our brochure "Orchids at Home." Being sent ready for repotting, naturally these plants are WITHOUT BUD OR BLOOM.

Any plant orders under $50.00 may be included in the DO-IT-YOURSELF offer, except large mature Cymbidiums, Vandas, and Phalaenopsis out of 8" pots or larger. This brings almost our entire collection to your door, or as close to you as your mailman. (We pay the postage.)

OUT-OF-POT: This method of ordering is the most economical way to add to your collection. Out-of-pot plants are sent POSTAGE-FREE with no additional charges, but remember that the plants, of course, must be OUT OF BUD OR BLOOM. This offer is for the convenience of orchid hobbyists who have sufficient supplies on hand to pot and care for their plants on arrival. No potting materials, accessories, or fertilizers are included. These plants will be sent ready for repotting, naturally WITHOUT BUD OR BLOOM.

As with the DO-IT-YOURSELF offer, any plant orders under $50.00 may be included in the OUT-OF-POT POSTAGE-FREE offer except large mature Cymbidiums, Vandas, and Phalaenopsis out of 8" pots or larger. REPOTTING SERVICE: For local growers. Charges are based on the size pot the plant is repotted in; for example, a 6" pot is $1.00 complete.

POTTING INSTRUCTION FOLDER: Available for anyone wishing to repot their own orchids.

SEED SOWING AND TRANSPLANTING: As the world's largest orchid hybridizer, we can offer exceptional service in sowing seed at $6.00 for the first flask and $3.00 for every additional flask of each cross. Transplanting charges are $6.00 for the first bottle or flask and $4.50 for additional ones regardless of variety.

STAGES OF CATTLEYA GROWTH FROM SEED POD TO MATURE PLANT

HOME GROWING

The Growing Area

The ideal growing area in the home is a bright window, free from drafts, where your plants receive both direct morning and afternoon sunlight. In window collections, plants need protection only against the burning midday sun. With extra large windows or especially intense sunlight, the additional light may be adjusted for by moving the plants 18 to 36 inches away from the window. Of course, glasshouse growing will require shading to reduce light intensity.

The light intensity should be from 1,000 to 2,000 foot candles, depending on the season of the year and the latitude. Plants in the home require a greater light intensity, because they receive light from only one direction, while in the glasshouse they receive light from all sides. A plant shipped in bud should be placed in a bright window until the flower opens. In areas with extremely cold, freezing nights, the plants should be temporarily moved back from the window to provide a protective air space against the deepfreeze of the windowpane.

CYMBIDIUMS thrive outdoors in moderate climates such as the coastal areas of California, Oregon, and Washington, where there is no severe freezing weather or extended periods of high night temperatures. CYMBIDIUMS are semi-terrestrials (semi-earth-rooted) and should be potted in a $2\frac{2}{3}$ humus, $1\frac{1}{3}$ soil mix such as our SUPERSOIL. CYMBIDIUMS should be grown in a sheltered location protected from severe drying winds. The CYMBIDIUM orchids can stand almost full midday sun in mid-summer if gradually acclimated to outdoor life by partial shade for a month or two during the early part of the summer.

Providing Additional Humidity

All potted orchid plants in the growing area may be set ON pebbles in a water-filled tray, saucer, or other container, as shown in the photograph on the next page. The water in the pebbles provides the evaporation of water which results in humidity. Any pebbles obtainable in your locality will suffice for the humidity factor. You may, however, wish to select the more decorative type such as we list under SUPPLIES. Pebbles not only increase the humidity, but make the growing area more attractive, as well as facilitating drainage.

Temperature Requirements

Orchids are not at all the delicate plants most people think they are. They will generally adapt readily to conditions offered by any modern home. For growing purposes we usually group orchids into three temperature classes:

The INTERMEDIATE class is represented by CATTLEYAS, EPIDENDRUMS, ONCIDIUMS, mottled leaf CYPRIPEDIUMS, and a few others. The ideal minimum temperature is 60° nights, with high 70°s during the days. An occasional deviation will have no harmful effect, since most orchid plants adapt readily to temperature conditions, just as they do in nature. This group will do well with the air, temperature, and light facilities found in the home, more so than the other two groups.

The COOL class includes the ODONTOGLOSSUM GRANDE, CYMBIDIUMS, plain leaf CYPRIPEDIUMS, and others, and should be grown five degrees cooler than the Intermediate class.

The WARM class is represented by PHALAENOPSIS, VANDAS, and DENDROBIUMS. These plants should be grown five degrees warmer than those in the Intermediate class. VANDAS are suitable as house plants only in a bright, sunny home growing area, in a glasshouse, or in a conservatory-like area with bright light from all sides.

Lighting Requirements

Many CATTLEYA orchids do not like extended days that are artificially created by electric lights after dark. A wide sunny window through which plenty of light will reach the plants will normally provide the lighting necessary for successful plant growing in the home; if the most desirable growing area is a room that has intense artificial lighting after dark, it is recommended that orchid plants be shaded or protected from the artificial light. Many CATTLEYAS will not develop blooms if kept in continuous intense light over 14 hours a day (the length of a long summer day). Here at "ACRES OF ORCHIDS" we delay flowering to time a crop for the holidays by using supplementary artificial night light. Light intensity or duration has no effect on orchid plants in full flower, and, once in bloom, your new "center of interest" may be displayed to best advantage anywhere in the home or office.

When to Water

Orchids differ in water and moisture requirements and may be grouped according to watering needs:

1. CATTLEYS, LAELIOCATTELYAS, BRASSOLAELIOCATTELYAS, ONCIDIUMS, and ODONTOGLOSSUMS are epiphytes or "air plants" (not earth rooted), with built-in water tanks called pseudobulbs. These orchids need a certain amount of "drying out" between waterings and a lot of moist air circulating about their aerial roots.

Water thoroughly every five days or so, depending on the time of year. In the heat of midsummer, water may be needed every three or four days; in the short, cool days of winter, stretch the time between waterings to 10 or even 12 days. The plants in this group are to be treated with studied neglect — they have built-in-reservoirs.

When orchids are potted in bark, more frequent watering is needed than for those planted in osmunda fibre. Bark-potted orchids should have a thorough leaching, or soaking, in a bucket of water or under running water three times a year. The coarser the bark, the more frequently you must water, but with this group, if you must err, err on the dry side.

2. PHALAENOPSIS and VANDAS, while also epiphytic, do not have built-in water tanks. Their requirements are about the same as ordinary house plants, but they require more frequent watering than orchids with pseudobulbs. Water enough to keep the potting material MOIST at all times, but not continually soaked.

3. CYPRIPEDIUMS have still different requirements. They are known as terrestrials or semi-terrestrials, which means earth-rooted, and need an abundance of moisture at the roots in order to do well. Unlike the other two groups, CYPRIPEDIUMS are difficult to over-water; the bottoms of the pots may stand in water for some time after watering.

CYMBIDIUMS also like an abundance of moisture, but even when planted in an outdoor garden, they require good drainage and plentiful root aeration.

WHEN WATERING, just pour water into the top of the pot. Much of the water will drain through the drainage hole, but a sufficient amount will be retained by the porous, absorbent potting mixture.

To determine when to water, the best practical test is to feel the potting compound; with your fingers, feel the potting mixture — not just the surface, but an inch or so into the pot — and if the compound feels dry and harsh, it needs watering, but if damp, your fingers will note the moisture. Some find it easier and faster to water by "dunking." This consists of submerging the pot — NOT the plant! — in a bucket, allowing water to run over the rim, then lifting to drain. Pots may remain submerged from two to three to as long as fifteen minutes. This is a particularly good technique for those orchids planted in coarser grades of bark or for those whose bark has become excessively dried out. When feeding (see following section), WONDER-LIZER should be incorporated in the dunking water.

Feeding Your Orchids

Most orchids suggested today for the home are potted in fir bark, such as our WONDERBARK, or osmunda. (All of our plants are now potted in WONDERBARK or our own SUPERSOIL.) How much and how often you feed are determined by the type of potting material used. For feeding, use any of the instant totally water-soluble ORCHID feeds, like our instant WONDER-LIZER, Formula 312, or Instant Vigoro. Add the plant food to the water and apply it every other watering for orchids potted in bark and once a month for those potted in osmunda.

Repotting Your Orchids

It is time to repot your orchid plant every two years, or sooner if the plant outgrows the pot and extends over the edge. Today most plants are potted in WONDERBARK (fir bark) rather than the traditional osmunda, because the bark mixtures are as simple to use as the ordinary soil potting mixtures and do not require special potting techniques. Should you wish to do your own repotting, remove the plant from the pot, cut off the older or withered backbulbs, and pot like any other house plant. For detailed information, request our POTTING INSTRUCTIONS and "STORY OF WONDERBARK" leaflets.

Cultural Service

Orchids are free from plant pests and almost never need spraying. If you think that yours may be affected, write to us, describing the symptoms and your present care. We are glad to give cultural information FREE OF CHARGE at any time.

Above All, Enjoy Your Orchids While In Flower At Home

When your orchid plant blooms, move it to the location in your home or office that displays its full beauty to best advantage. While in flower, leave the pebbles in the growing area and cover the pot with an attractive cover or expandable bamboo sleeve such as those listed under SUPPLIES. This is your big moment — make the most of it! When the blooms fade, cut back just the flower stem itself without cutting the leaves or bulbs and return the plant to the best suited growing area to help your plant "grow on" for future blooms.

FLOWERING CATTLEYS

These plants are shipped bud in sheath when ordered during their blooming season. Our prices are F.O.B. the nursery, and are based on the size and quality of blooms, on the number of leads, and, to some extent, on the size of the pot. Various combinations of these factors result in different prices for the same pot size.

Any order of $50.00 or less may be shipped POSTAGE FREE out of the blooming season if you specify either DO-IT-YOURSELF or OUT-OF-POT (see page 2). This is quite a saving on your plant purchases. Remember to add 39c per plant to the prices listed below for the DO-IT-YOURSELF plan.

Prices shown opposite the pot size indicate price range, as $5.00 — $35.00, with intermediate priced plants available in the following amounts: $6.00, $7.50, $8.50, $10.00, $12.00, $15.00, $18.00, $20.00, and in multiples of $5.00 thereafter.

The filling of orders will be expedited if you state a price class acceptable for each plant and indicate whether or not we may substitute a similar plant.

BONUS PAGE

One Plant FREE for Every Two You Purchase From This Page

For every two plants ordered from the listing below, we will select another hybrid Cattleya, Cymbidium, or Cypripedium from our "Acres of Orchids" equal in value to the average price of the two purchased. All will make better-than-average additions to any collection. We are making this offer only to clear out small lot varieties to reduce the cost of inventory and, since the supply of plants is limited for each listing, it would be wise to send us several alternate choices. These plants should be shipped "bud in sheath" but this may not be possible because of the small lots or flowering seasons.

Bonus Page Plants Are Sold Under the Following Conditions:

We reserve the right of substitution.

We guarantee to send a similar type plant of equal or better quality than the two selected, as the Bonus plant, or as a substitution, but all free plants will be colored as the supply of whites is limited.

All plants in a single shipment must go to the same address.

Regular quantity discounts do not apply.

Bonus Page plants may be sent POSTAGE-FREE, out of bud, if you specify DO-IT-YOURSELF or OUT-OF-POT (see page two for information).

Plants are in six- and seven-inch pots. Price range, i.e. $5.00 - $35.00, given for each plant indicates quality and size; you may order any value between the minimum and the maximum in the following price progression: $5.00, $6.00, $7.50, $8.50, $10.00, $12.00, $15.00, $18.00, $20.00, and multiples of $5.00 thereafter.

EPIPHRONITIS VEITCHII

BIGENERIC HYBRIDS and UNUSUALS

We particularly draw your attention to these intergeneric crosses as well as to the novel crosses that bring together the influences of diverse areas into progeny entirely new to the world. The thrill of seeing the results of bigeneric crosses, many of which have been made for the first time, can be obtained from this listing. Seldom but in orchids are bigeneric crosses made with success. These are the foundation stock for beginning new lines, new trends in orchids. They could be the "forerunner" parent stock of a unique and striking collection.

The DO-IT-YOURSELF and OUT-OF-POT offers apply to these plants when ordered out of season, without buds (see page 2). Please remember to add 39c per plant to the prices listed below when ordering on the DO-IT-YOURSELF plan.

SPECIES

We have gathered this fine collection of unique orchids and strong growing, long lasting, prolific types of species from all over the world and have carefully nurtured them until vigorously reestablished. These delightful plants, when ordered in season, in bud, are shipped in pots; when they are ordered out of season, which is usually the case, they are shipped, at your request, under the OUT-OF-POT or DO-IT-YOURSELF plan (see page 2). For the DO-IT-YOURSELF plan, please add 39c per plant to the below prices.

The number after the description indicates flower size in inches, except for those varieties which have long pendant sepals. The country of origin is listed for your information, as is the blooming season.

Cool, Intermediate, or Warm indicate the temperature classifications of the orchids as explained on page 4 under the section

TEMPERATURE REQUIREMENTS.

Asterisks (*) in the margin indicate plants that are easy to grow, even for the novice.

Intermediate prices between ranges quoted for each plant are $7.50, $8.50, $10.00, $12.00, $15.00, $17.00, and $20.00.

CYPRIPEDIUMS

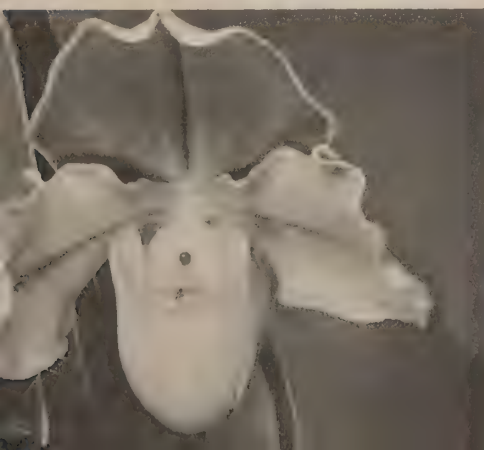

CYP. BROMFIELD

CYPRIPEDIUMS can be termed the "Orchid of the Sophisticate," for truly those uninitiated to orchids cannot imagine that the Cypripedium will become one of their favorite orchids as their taste becomes more sophisticated. Cypripediums are most attractive orchid plants for the home and their long lasting flowers make them ideal for growing at home. Their flowering habit of peaking in early winter has always made them most desirable for the cut flower market. These are hybrids of the quality the commercial grower will want—floriferous—large—well-shaped—with the price range indicating the size and quality of the plants. Intermediate plant prices within the ranges given are $6.00, $7.50, $8.50, $10.00, $12.00, $15.00, $18.00, $20.00, and multiples of $5.00 thereafter.

Basically, CYPRIPEDIUMS fall into two classes; the warm type thrives on 62° to 70° nights and the cool class likes 52° to 60° at night. The medium to warm types have mottled leaves, and the ones with plain leaves are in the cool to medium classification. In the descriptions below, "Warm" or "Cool" will indicate the temperature requirements (see page 4). (It must be noted, however, that many of these plants are hybrids with mixed parentage and the designation is merely an INDICATOR.) The cool type may be grown even in warm climates IF the fancier has provided misting or some sort of evaporative cooling.

CYMBIDIUMS

Unsurpassed hybrids, many of which are triploids hybridized for mid-season production of exceptionally large, well-shaped flowers. For the uninitiated, these are semi-terrestrial plants bearing long-lasting sprays of flowers and may be grown outdoors in frost-free areas. (Refer to specific Home Growing instructions for this genera on pages four and five.)

Because of the large size and resulting weight, Cymbidiums not in spike are shipped bare root, polyethylene protected, POSTPAID. Please advise when ordering if you want them shipped in pots, as they are then shipped Railway Express. COLLECT. (Plants in spike should be shipped in pots.)

Anthuriums may be shipped under the OUT-OF-POT or DO-IT-YOURSELF offers (see page two); plants are shipped out of pot, bare root in cellophane bags, POSTAGE-FREE, under these special offers. Be sure to specify if you wish DO-IT-YOURSELF and add 39c per plant to the prices below.

PHALAENOPSIS

"THE MOTH ORCHID," in lovely white or pink, has three- to six-inch flowers borne on delicate, graceful arching sprays. Since the plants require abundant heat and humidity, they were originally recommended for conservatory and glasshouse growing only; however, many of our customers are having encouraging success growing Phalaenopsis in their homes. When well-grown, these plants will bloom two or three times a year, generally in the Spring and Fall. Our pinks are widely known for their outstanding award quality.

When in spike these plants must be shipped in pots, Railway Express COLLECT. Intermediate prices within ranges given for each plan are $8.50, $10.00, $12.00, $15.00, $18.00, $20.00, and multiples of $5.00 thereafter.

WONDERBARK

Clean — Uniform

WONDERBARK, the ground or chopped and screened bark of abies concolor or white fir, is the potting medium now used extensively by both professional and amateur orchidists. All growers have found that it is easy and economical for repotting all types of orchids and producing plants that are noticeably stronger and larger than those grown in the traditional potting materials. Results have been outstanding — unprecedented root growth, vigorous plant growth and strong flower production, all with less cost, time, and effort. Orchids in WONDERBARK require less watering than those in osmunda; the frequency of watering (with which we recommend light feeding of nutrients such as our WONDERLIZER) depends upon the grade of bark used and the moisture or humidity of the growing area.

WONDERBARK is available in several sizes or grinds, packaged in two-cu. ft. sacks, each weighing approximately 45 to 55 lbs., or in Hobby Sacks. For distant shipment, we recommend ordering at least two two-cu. ft. sacks, since truck rates are based on a 100 lb. minimum. Medium and coarse grades of WONDERBARK are available in the popular 9 lb. Hobby Sack, which will pot six 6" pots, and in the new, handy 5 lb. Jr. Hobby Sack, sufficient for four 6" pots. Our illustrated "Potting Instructions" folder is available upon request.

SUPERSOIL is sold in three sizes, the regular and the Jr. Hobby Sack for planters, and the two-cu. ft. sack for gardens and larger areas. WONDER-LIZER

WONDER-LIZER, the water-soluble plant food developed at "Acres of Orchids," has everything for orchids and, since it is such a fine fertilizer, has been used for all house plants everywhere. So handy and so easy to use, WONDER-LIZER has a bright pink color to indicate the correct strength and to let you know when you are feeding; this color acts as a helpful guide when you use a proportioner (see SUPPLIES above).

WONDER-LIZER contains phosphates, extremely dear components for plant foods; these, combined with easily-absorbed iron chelate and other important ingredients, give WONDER-LIZER a unique and ideal food balance. Also economical to use, the recommended strength is just one level teaspoonful of WONDER-LIZER to one gallon of water in every other watering.

AERIAL VIEW OF THE ROD McLELLAN CO.
"ACRES OF ORCHIDS"

At "Acres of Orchids" . . .

We are constantly striving to produce new and finer orchid hybrids. The intensive program of hybridizing that we have undertaken for so many years continues to bring forth ever more outstanding results. It does take experience and time to develop an outstanding line of parent stock such as ours. Two of our recent introductions to the public are pictured on this year's catalog cover—the Lc. Ann Follis and Blc. Big Bear.

From the very first flowering of the Lc. Ann Follis cross, we knew that we had something special. Like a new style, it took time for us to truly appreciate this outstanding new hybrid. This year it was awarded the rare "Award of Quality" by the Orchid Digest Corporation, and the American Orchid Society presented the very rare "Award of Quality" and "Award of Distinction" to this cross.

As you (our customers) become ever better acquainted with orchids, not only do you seek better hybrids, but now you seem to ask for the "exception," the "different" if not "rare" orchid. Ann Follis satisfies these desires to the fullest.

On the back cover is Blc. Big Bear (Blc. Momercia 'Corona' x C. Prospector) page 6 the type of fine Cattleya hybrid so prolific and so distinguished when displayed in the home and is wonderful for cutting. This is the type of orchid we have been producing over the years, gradually improving each characteristic of beauty.

In mentioning these two crosses, we describe and picture graphically our whole philosophy; we are attempting to produce orchids that are a "little bit better" and that give you a thrill—a tingle of real pleasure.

There are many such delightful offerings in this catalog—with all the orchid supplies or accessories needed to best grow or display orchids.

This message may be too much slanted to our hybridizing or towards the desires of the orchid fancier-grower, but the tremendous increase in the use of our orchid plants as gifts (quite fashionable) for anniversary, birthday, hospital, Christmas, etc., by our friends portends a great future for this phase of our business. Thus, here in this catalog you will see unusual gift suggestions—orchid plants in bud or bloom.
